At Meeting of Fourth
Ward Voters

Climaxing a series of meetings before next Tuesday's election, the Salem Republican party will sponsor a citizens' mass meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Memorial building.

Special issues of interest to all voters, regardless of political affiliation, will be discussed and the public is urged to attend. The ladies' G. O. P. group will be among those present.

Principal speaker at the huge rally will be State Senator Ray Palmer of Barnesville.

Preceding the meeting will be an automobile parade, led by a cavalcade of horsemen and a band. Red and green torches will add to the colorfulness of the event.

Parade Forms At 7

The parade will form at 7 p. m. on S. Broadway, near the Bliss plant, and will move north on Broadway to E. State st. and east on State to the Memorial building.

The last in a series of ward meetings was held last night at the Memorial building when the Republicans met for a Fourth ward meeting, presided over by George Bowman, Republican Fourth ward council candidate.

Principal talks were made by B. L. Flick, Republican mayoralty candidate; Atty Henry L. Reese, candidate for solicitor, and Atty Charles McCorkhill. The latter, president of the Salem Republican club, stressed the importance of voting.

Must be furnished by Joe Bernard, accordionist, while a crier and doughnut treat was made possible by A. P. Morris and Harry Vincent. Republican councilmen-at-large candidates.

MOSCOW, Nov. 1.—Finland, caught in the vise of conflicting European interests, apparently faced the choice today of making concessions and a territorial trade with Soviet Russia, or refusing at the risk of a fight.

Premier-Forain. Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov said the Russian proposals "are extremely modest and are confined to that minimum without which it is impossible to safeguard the security of the U. S. S. R. and to put on a firm footing the friendly relations with Finland."

He also commented that the European war was "fraught with great surprises and dangers for all European states."

Finland Answers

The Finnish delegation, which has conferred twice with Molotov, was enroute to Moscow with Finland's "final answer" when Molotov disclosed what Russia wanted: A strip of territory north of Leningrad, title to some islands in the Gulf of Finland, a naval base at the mouth of the gulf, portions of the Rybach peninsula and demilitarization of the Finnish border.

In exchange, Finland would be given a larger strip of Soviet Karelia, and Russia would withdraw objections to Finnish fortification of the Aaland islands in the Gulf of Bothnia.

(The Finnish government announced in Helsinki that publication of the heretofore secret demands "created a new situation," but the Finnish delegation to reach Moscow tomorrow conferred with its foreign office by telephone and decided to continue its journey.)

Molotov, in addressing the supreme Soviet last night, also aroused deep diplomatic interest by expressing a desire for closer Soviet relations with Japan.

Staps at U. S.

He affirmed cooperation with Germany, including trade negotiations; made thrusts at Great Britain and France; and slapped at the United States for its "moral support" of Finland.

While he displayed a certain coldness toward Turkey (which recently signed a mutual aid pact

ALLIANCE BANK
PRESIDENT DIESFrank S. Callander Succumbs In Pittsburgh; Funeral To Be Held Thursday

ALLIANCE, Nov. 1.—Frank S. Callander, 64, president of the First National bank here, died yesterday afternoon at Shady Side hospital, Pittsburgh, where he had been a patient for the last week. He had been ill of a heart ailment.

Mr. Callander, a native of Pittsburgh, succeeded A. L. Atkinson as president of the Alliance bank in 1936. He came here from Cleveland where he was manager of the construction Finance Corp. office.

Most of his life had been spent in the Pittsburgh vicinity. For 47 years he was employed at the Monongahela National bank in Pittsburgh. He quit there in 1932 to enter government service.

Surviving besides his wife, Anna, are two daughters, Mrs. R. H. Kipp of Sacramento, Calif., Miss Donna Callander of Pittsburgh; a stepson, Dr. M. R. McBride; a sister, Mrs. A. W. Brown of Toronto, Canada, and a brother, J. H. Callander, of Pittsburgh.

The funeral service will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday at the Simpson funeral home, Pittsburgh, followed by burial in Union Dale cemetery there.

'Not Enough' Ruling
On Parking Tickets

COLUMBUS, Nov. 1.—Municipal Judge Fred J. Miller held in traffic court that overtime parking tickets were unsatisfactory evidence in prosecuting traffic law violations. He ruled that a policeman must see a motorist park, or continuously observe a car parked illegally, or see a motorist drive away.

Safety Director Don Wiper declared today, however, that Columbus policemen would continue to "tag" automobiles on the ground that overtime parking as specified on the ticket is prima facie evidence of a violation. The fine is $1.

HOUSE DEMANDRep. McCormack Hits Mo-

izing President

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A demand that the United States recall its ambassador to Russia because of Premier Molotov's criticism of President Roosevelt was injected into the house neutrality debate today by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.).

'Anti-God' Forces

Describing both Russia and Germany as "the anti-God forces of the world today," McCormack said he had read newspaper accounts of Molotov's address to the Supreme Soviet yesterday in which President Roosevelt was criticized for "intervening" in Russia's negotiations with Finland and it was stated that this country's moves to repeal its arms embargo would "intensify, aggravate and protract" the European war.

"For that statement made by the official representative of Soviet Russia," McCormack shouted, "the United States ought to recall its ambassador. That should be the answer of the United States to this attempt to influence American public opinion—this grave breach of international law."

Laurence A. Steinhardt is United States ambassador to Russia.) McCormack's comment on Molotov's speech came within two hours after Stephen Early, presidential press secretary, had questioned in a conference with reporters whether it was "purely coincidental" that Molotov had criticized the President at a time when an important vote was scheduled here in the house on the neutrality legislation.

Subsequently at the state department Secretary Hull, when asked about the Russian premier's remarks, said the American move in the Russo-Finnish situation spoke

Reconditioned Snow Cruiser Heading Eastward to Akron

LIMA, Nov. 1.—Reconditioned after plunging into a ditch, the Antarctic snow cruiser to be used by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's expedition crept eastward today following another delay caused by a broken oil line.

Starting out before dawn from nearby Gomer, where the 32-ton vehicle tumbled from a highway bridge on Saturday, the cruiser went 12 miles before the oil line burst near Beaver dam. Repairs were completed in two hours.

Crew members said they hoped to reach Mansfield this afternoon and Akron tonight. At Akron new tires and a motor will be picked up. The motor and a wheel will be installed at Erie, Pa.

The cruiser, built in Chicago and enroute to Boston, was designed for exploration of Antarctic wastelands.

Rally Program

STEUBENVILLE, Nov. 1.—Senator and Mrs. Robert A. Taft will travel from Washington to Steubenville Thursday for a public reception in their honor and an Eighteenth Congressional district Republican rally.

Definite assurance that the Tafts will attend the Jefferson county meeting was received by Harry D. Wintringer, chairman of arrangements. Taft was unable to keep an engagement in Steubenville last Thursday because of a pending vote on the neutrality bill.

Congressman Earl R. Lewis, of St. Clairsville, will share the speaking program with Senator and Mrs. Taft.

County Chairman Stuart B. Moreland has estimated that between 5,000 and 7,000 Republicans from Eastern Ohio will gather in front of the Jefferson county courthouse to greet the Tafts and state and county leaders. County chairmen will lead motorcades from Columbiana, Harrison, Belmont and Carroll counties.

Charges at County
Home Investigated

COLUMBUS, Nov. 1.—Charges of the Franklin county board of visitors that inmates of the county home were "practically starving to death" and were permitted to bathe only once a week brought promise of quick action today from the board of county commissioners.

Faced with an ultimatum from the visitors to "clear up conditions within 15 days," George Trabue, commission chairman, asserted: "I'll assure you that we will do it as quickly as possible."

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, secretary of the visitors' board, said: "We have delayed our next visit to the home because it is heart-breaking to hear their (the inmates) pleas for food and not be able to do anything about it. The employees get plenty of food, why can't the inmates?"

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The supreme army command's communique today raised to six the number of planes shot down by the Germans on the western front and in the North Sea Monday.

Four of them were British, the announcement said. Identity of the other two was not revealed.

Yesterday's communique said four planes were shot down Monday.

Today's communique reported only desultory artillery fire and reconnoitering activity on the western front.

German Action Expected

An unconfirmed but general impression that Germany now is ready for some "positive initiative" in the European war developed today in informed quarters.

This followed two external events of interest to Germany—the reorganization of the Italian cabinet and Soviet Russian Premier Vyacheslav Molotov's declaration of policy.

Informed circles held that neither development injured the German cause and that now nothing remains to bar German war initiative.

As interpreted in these quarters Premier Benito Mussolini's periodical "changing of the guard"—as the Italian reorganization was characterized here—was accomplished without a hitch while Molotov emphasized Russian-German cooperation.

These sources professed to see only indications of strength and unswerving attachment on the part of Italy and Russia whom they held to be Germany's two best

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Two coast guard cutters and navy destroyers and airplanes battled gale-swept seas and a heavy wind today in search of the British freighter, Coulmore, or her survivors, in response to a fleet wireless report that she had been attacked by a submarine last night about 400 miles southeast of Boston.

A serious storm passed over the area yesterday and a 40-mile wind continued to whistle today, rendering perilous the position of any lifeboat occupants. The storm also would have made the surface operation of a submarine difficult.

The reported submarine attack apparently occurred within the "neutrality zone" set up by the Pan-American conference.

Not a single word was received from the freighter after her initial calls for assistance.

When the Coulmore called at Boston with a cargo of Russian coal on Sept. 9, she carried a crew of 34 and the wife of the captain, Mrs. Ernest Davies. At that time, Mrs. Davies said she intended to remain aboard for the return passage.

The navy did not elaborate on the part it was playing, beyond stating it was co-operating with the coast guard in "saving life at sea."

Three E. Palestine
Motorists Injured

Three East Palestine residents, Louis Hull, 50, J. W. Shearer, 62, and George Kibler, 58, suffered face lacerations when the automobile in which they were riding with Frank R. Reese, 63, also of East Palestine, was struck by another car at the intersection of Routes 558 and 164 at 4:40 p. m. Tuesday.

The accident occurred, the state highway patrol reported, when Ethel McClure, 44, of East Palestine, failed to observe a stop sign at the highway junction and her machine hit that driven by Reese.

The injured were treated at the scene by the highway patrol.

Climax Mardi Gras Parade

While throngs watched from the curbs, with others peering from store windows and second story apartments, Halloweeners, dressed in a variety of gay and colorful costumes, marched in the city's annual Mardi Gras parade Tuesday evening.

The drummers marched back and forth along corn-strewn E. State st., led by the Salem High school band. Joining in the fun and frolic were tots several years old, accompanied by their parents, and many adults.

The parade started from the American Legion home and ended there. Approximately 75 prizes, offered by the Business Bureau merchants, were awarded the winners in the various costumed events. Acting as judges were Legion officials and members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Police had their hands full in guarding against "extra" Halloween antics.

BIG FOUR

Any voter trying to make up his mind on the spot election day would need to carry a lunch to the voting booth. Besides local candidates and issues, Ohioans must consider issues embodied in three proposed amendments to the state constitution and one referendum on a law passed by the legislature.

First of the four questions is a proposed amendment providing for a state board of education. Little is known generally of the arguments for and against this proposal, but its purpose is to lessen political pressure on the state director of education and that is desirable. Vote Yes on this amendment if it seems a good idea to let a state board of education worry about politics while the director of education worries about schools.

Second and third questions are the proposed Bigelow amendments, one promising to provide pensions by financial hocus-pocus that couldn't conceivably work, or if it did would cripple Ohio government for years to come; the other making it easier to get questions on the ballot. Most Ohioans will feel that when four questions can get on the ballot in one year it's easy enough already. Responsible voters will say No to these proposals.

The "Referendum On House Bill No. 14," which appears fourth, at the bottom of the questions and issues ballot voters will receive next Tuesday, calls for a vote of Yes.

The question is whether House Bill 14, reorganizing the civil service, should be approved. Those who claim it shouldn't be approved have tried to embarrass the Bricker administration by calling a referendum.

Voters who disagree with such tactics can show their disagreement by voting to uphold the bill. Thus, to vote against the referendum's backers, voters must say Yes—keep House Bill No. 14 in the statutes.

An easy way to remember the four issues on the questions and issues ballot, is to vote Yes on the first question, which is whether to establish a state board of education; No on the next two questions, which are the Bigelow amendments; Yes on the fourth question, which is the civil service referendum. An affirmative vote on No. 4 is the only way to say no to the attempt being made by certain Democrats to get back on the state payroll by overthrowing House Bill No. 14.

Vote Yes-No-No-Yes on the four questions and issues ballot.

DANGER: KEEP OFF

Sen. Taft is latest to tack up a danger sign on wartime powers of government. In an address to the Indianapolis Bar association on "Emergency Powers of the President" Monday night, he expressed as much concern about what would happen to the United States if it went to war as about the possibility that it might go to war.

"I do not say," explained Sen. Taft, "that the President should be stripped of emergency wartime powers. My purpose is to point out the dangers to democratic processes attendant upon modern warfare."

Worry on this score isn't peculiar to Americans, nor to democratic processes. Every government that goes to war signs its own conditional death warrant, and that includes the dictatorships which, because they are inelastic, inevitably must crack up first. Few governments in Europe survived the World War and those that did were shaken to their foundations.

Already, Great Britain and France, which survived the ordeal and seemed to have established a new era of popular government on the ruins of European autocracy, are abandoning some of their democratic principles to the exigencies of warfare.

SHARE THE PIGSKIN PROFITS

The wage slaves of the football industry have toiled another week. The cash receipts have been counted and trundled off to the banks. The ballyhoo for next Saturday's big games now starts.

Francis Wallace in Saturday Evening Post has told all about what players of the University of Pittsburgh get out of the pigskin industry—besides their education. John R. Tunis in American Mercury has made a broader investigation.

Tunis figures the average stipend of a football star is $35 a month in schools that pay as they go. Wallace says the going rate at Pitt at the moment is $48 a month and a $300 tuition fee. Top wage in football for the cream of subsidized stars seems to run about $125 a month, but this is rare.

So the solution's as simple as spilling creamed chicken on a vest. The football industry must share its pigskin profits. Put the emphasis where it belongs—on the players—and lift it from the place the reformers say it shouldn't be—the boxoffice. No one ever has bothered about wages, but only about the fact wages are paid in some cases. If the multimillion dollar amateur football business can't do better than an average of $35 a month for its help it should fold up, the way other sweatshops are expected to do in this new era.

CLEVER, THESE EUROPEANS

Here's a simple story, almost too simple. A owes B a lot of money, which he says he can't pay. But without B knowing about it, A buys into the mortgage on B's house. Then one day when A gets into a jam he says to B, "Look here, sucker, I need stuff so you sell it to me and I'll pay you by reducing your mortgage." A thinks he's made a shrewd deal.

Herbert Hoover doesn't tell this story in explaining recently to readers of Saturday Evening Post why the United States should stay out of war, but he does tell how Europe, which said it couldn't pay its war debts, "accumulated balances and assets in this country several times the amount of the payments."

These balances and assets will be used to pay for whatever supplies Europe buys in the United States under the "cash and carry scheme." This is particularly true of Great Britain. If it had been planned that way it couldn't have worked out any better. Americans prefer to do business abroad on a cash basis, so they easily forgot that Great Britain and France still owe the United States something like $8,000,000,000 for their last big shopping expedition here.

A DAY of excellent opportunity for advancement, preferment or tokens of esteem is presaged by the interesting planetary figures, although there are certain slightly adverse aspects. The latter may occur in the private, intellectual or social relations, where they may prove passing annoyances attributable to venomous or idle tongues.

Those whose birthday it is are assured a year of promotion, high honors and many testimonies of preferment and esteem from employers, superiors or those whose favor is merited. But there may be malicious tongues or jealous enmities seeking to bedevil the happy events.

A child born on this day, although talented, capable and ambitious, winning place and position on its merits, may have a frivolous or quixotic personal side which may subject it to gossip or malevolence.

EXTEND TIME

CANTON, Nov. 1.—Officers of national farm loan associations from 22 northeastern Ohio counties, meeting here today for their annual conference, announced a new policy under which holders of bank commissioner loans obtained through the Federal Land Bank of Louisville may amortize their payments over a longer period.

The commissioner loans, it was explained, were made for repayment of over a period of 10 years but under the new policy arrangements can be made for repaying one-twentieth of the principal each year where conditions warrant it.

"This does not mean that farmers are encouraged to spread out their payments," said Myron Gregg, president of the Louisville Land bank. "Wherever possible the loans should be repaid in 10 years or less, for only by making payments as large as possible will the principal be reduced and the farm be made debt free in the shortest time."

The extension, Gregg said, was decided upon to meet special conditions in certain areas such as northeastern Ohio where dairy prices are down and where agriculture is so closely associated with industrial production. He added that the extension does not apply to regular hand bank loans, most of which were written for terms of more than 10 years.

Attending the meeting are 100 directors, secretaries and treasurers of farm loan associations in the 22 northeastern Ohio counties. The meeting is one of 16 to be held in the four states served by the Louisville bank.

Rabies Are Real Menace, Dr. Clendening Declares

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Is it true, as I have read, that there is no danger or no such thing as hydrophobia in the United States?

It is decidedly not true and such statements are dangerous and misleading. I happen to have the figures for the state of Indiana before me, and they entirely disprove the idea. From 1926 to 1938 there were 11,478 animal heads examined in Indiana, and 6,172 were found to have Negri bodies which indicate rabies. These animals bit or otherwise exposed 7,859 persons. Hydrophobia developed in 40 of these human beings. All died.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Horrible Disease

Hydrophobia, or rabies, is such a horrible disease, invariably fatal, that every possible precaution should be used to prevent it. The only treatment we have is the Pasteur treatment.

As is well known, rabies may not appear until some time after the bite. The shortest period noted in this Indiana series was 18 days between the bite and the onset of symptoms. The sooner the treatment is given after exposure, the better. One of the Indiana cases developed rabies after receiving the Pasteur treatment, but the treatment was not begun until the nineteenth day after exposure.

Is there any real danger in the common drinking glass?

Certainly. Mumps, tuberculosis, measles, diphtheria, influenza, the common cold, scarlet fever, whooping cough, trench mouth and pneumonia are diseases listed by Dr. M. J. Rosenau (Preventive Medicine and Hygiene) as contracted by droplet infection, or indirectly "in food and drinks, by hand and mouth infection or by such sectors as cups, spoons and other things that are mouthed."

Does the sweet potato have good nutritive qualities?

Yes. Its starch has many properties that make it valuable in industry as well as in dietetics, particularly cooking.

All starches have two portions, one water-soluble and one water-insoluble—Alpha and Beta Amylose. When a starch solution is heated, it thickens with turbulent splashing and foaming up to a certain point until a constant body or viscosity is reached.

The sweet potato has lots of Beta Amylose and gelatinizes at lower temperatures than other commercial starches. For this reason it can be used in sizing textile fibers. In cooking, sweet potato starch added to batter in all types of cakes gives uniformity of texture free from gas holes. In cake icing, sweet potato starch retards checking.

VOTE--REPUBLICAN--VOTE

HENRY L. REESE FOR SOLICITOR

Life-long resident of Salem. Graduate of Salem High School, Wooster College and Western Reserve Law School.

Three years' experience with Legal Aid Society of Cleveland.

Now actively engaged in practice of law in Salem.

B. L. FLICK FOR MAYOR

A civic and business leader of Salem for the last 38 years.

Experienced as acting mayor and councilman.

Pledges himself to a full-time administration.

No pledges nor commitments to any individual as to appointments.

Promises full cooperation with every department in promoting the interests of all the people of Salem.

K. L. WEBSTER FOR AUDITOR

Most efficient auditor in history of Salem. Recognition of his efficiency and service evidenced by the fact that he is unopposed at this election.

During his term of office the bonded indebtedness of Salem has been reduced about 70 per cent through his efforts and with the cooperation of city councilmen.

CHAS. CORNWALL For President of Council

His outstanding leadership in council in the last four years merits another term.

The voters of Salem are fortunate in having such a fine group of Republican candidates presented to them at the November 7th election.

In the entire history of our city there has seldom, if ever, been assembled a group of men better qualified to carry on the affairs of the city.

These men come from every walk of life and understand the problems of both labor and business.

REPUBLICAN ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Federal aid for various projects has been obtained, furnishing work for several hundred unemployed local citizens and WITHOUT INCREASING SALEM'S BONDED INDEBTEDNESS ONE CENT.

STREETS AND SIDEWALKS

Miles of paving and new sidewalks have been installed with the assistance of WPA funds and at extremely low cost to home owners.

WATER

Mains have been extended, furnishing water service and fire protection to all sections of the city.

LIGHTS

Street lights have been extended so that this service covers the entire city and during the past four years HAVE BEEN OPERATED ALL NIGHT LONG. Substantial savings to the city and citizens have been effected by REDUCTIONS IN POWER RATES OBTAINED BY A REPUBLICAN COUNCIL DURING THE PAST YEAR.

SEWERS

In spite of a limited budget during the past four years, many defects in our storm sewer system have been remedied. Many new sewers have been built and a definite sewer enlargement program, contingent upon WPA assistance, has been developed whereby work will begin in December in the Broadway area.

RELIEF

By judicious handling of limited funds available and the untiring efforts of council, those unfortunately in need have been cared for.

PARKS

Recreation facilities have been maintained and continuously enlarged and improved.

FINANCES

IN SPITE OF ALL THESE BENEFITS, ALL CURRENT BILLS AND PAYROLLS HAVE BEEN MET WHEN DUE AND SALEM'S BONDED INDEBTEDNESS AND RATE OF TAXATION HAVE BEEN MATERIALLY REDUCED.

ORVIL C. HOOVER For Treasurer

Qualified by more than 25 years of business experience in Salem. Now seeking re-election on the basis of merit.

C. F. ZIMMERMAN For 1st Ward Councilman

A veteran in city council, with invaluable experience in lighting, finance and streets, sewers and sidewalks committees.

ARCH H. WENTZ For 2nd Ward Councilman

Another newcomer politically whose judgment is sound and who is an energetic worker.

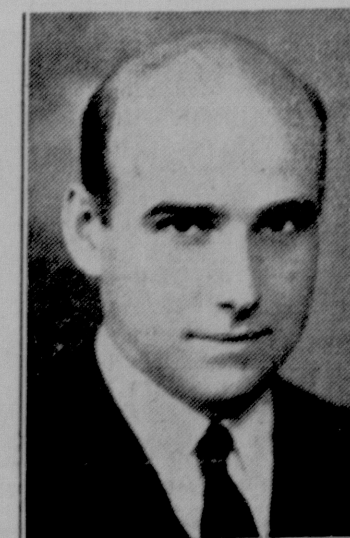

FRED SHAFFER For 3rd Ward Councilman

Active in the Brotherhood of Operative Pottery, an untiring worker who will look after his constituents' interests.

GEO. H. BOWMAN (JR.) For 4th Ward Councilman

Intensely interested in civic affairs, qualified by business experience.

CHAS. RHEUTAN For Councilman-at-Large

As chairman of the safety committee he has given faithful service and proven his value to the city.

ALBERT MORRIS For Councilman-at-Large

His experience on the finance, sewers and water committees and his knowledge of municipal affairs have made him a valuable city official whose services should be continued.

HARRY VINCENT For Councilman-at-Large

A newcomer politically, but who has demonstrated his ability by his activities in labor and civic affairs.

Nurses' Alumnae Association Opens Fall Program Nov. 10

Salem City Hospital Nurses' Alumnae association will inaugurate their annual program of events at two benefits and a dance during November.

The benefits have been arranged for Nov. 10-11 to obtain funds for the regular Christmas activities of the association.

Misses Virginia Rupert and Isabelle Carr are members of the committee in charge. Details of the arrangements may be learned by calling Miss Lela Vincent, phone 435-J.

The dance for members of the association and their guests will be held Saturday night, Nov. 25, at the Elks home. Dancing will be from 10 to 1 a. m. The band chosen to play for the benefit, which will provide funds for the association's annual gift to the hospital, will be announced later.

Miss Ellen Andre heads the ticket committee, with Misses Lela Faloon, Virginia Rupert and Isabelle Carr. Favors will be in charge of Misses Nelda DeStefano and Virginia Newhouse; decorations, Mrs. Gus Bauman and Miss Virginia Manely. Mrs. Isabelle Herschell, president of the association, is acting as general chairman.

Members and guests from surrounding towns have been invited to attend. Arrangements should be made with the following chairman: Lisbon, Miss Virginia Newhouse; Leontia, Mrs. Beulah Gluckner; Columbiana, Miss Frances Kunie-wicz; East Palestine, Mrs. Joseph Strouse; Salem, Miss Andre and Mrs. Herschell.

The regular meeting of the association will be held Friday night at the Nurses' home on E. State st.

Miss Ethel Lantz Is Honored

Miss Ethel Lantz, fiancée of Richard Wiggers, was complimented at a linen shower given by Bide-A-Wee club associates at the home of Mrs. Charles Malloy on North Lincoln ave. Tuesday evening.

Gifts for the bride-elect, whose wedding will be an event of Friday, were presented in a setting of cornucopias and pumpkins. Smaller lighted pumpkins formed decorations for the tables where lunch was served. Games were enjoyed, with prizes going to Miss Lantz and Mrs. Wesley Kille.

Tea Is Planned for Auxiliary Meeting

A tea will follow the regular meeting of Salem City Hospital auxiliary in the Nurses home at 2:30 p. m. Friday. A large attendance is desired.

Theatre Attractions

A new romantic starring team is introduced in "1,000 a Touchdown", showing at the State tonight and Thursday with Martha Raye and Joe E. Brown as the lead couple.

Susan Hayward, John Hartley, Eric Blore and Jayce Mathews are in the cast which turns in some decidedly dizzy but entertaining comedy.

Joe, as a would-be actor who loses his voice when he faces an audience of more than 10 people, teams up with Martha, who is trying to make a go of a bankrupt college.

Joe becomes coach of the football team which is recruited in such a way that accredited colleges won't play them. So Martha hires a pro team to play her team, promising the pro captain a thousand dollars for every touchdown her team makes. To further complicate matters she bets the same amount on her team to lift the mortgage against her college.

The usual type of Joe E. Brown and Martha Raye comedy, the picture is good light entertainment for the entire family.

At the Grand tonight only is a Jack Holt picture, "Hidden Power", featuring Gertrude Michael and Dickie Moore, and a Gracie Fields comedy, "Shipyards Sally."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gamble and son were dinner guests of Mrs. Rachel Gamble Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Satterthwait entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morton and children of Lebanon, Mo., who have been spending several days with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton left Sunday and will stop at Hymera, Ind., enroute to Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Coppock and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Weaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Holloway and children, Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Stanley and family, Salem, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stanley.

The date of the Needlework Guild's yearly meeting has been changed to Wednesday night, Nov. 8, in order that Rev. George Soerheide might be present with the Cleveland City Mission group. He will speak and there will be several musical features.

A harvest festival of fruits, vegetables and discarded clothing will be held to aid the Mission in its work.

THREE STUDENTS KIWANIS GUESTS

Columbiana Youths Tell
Of Advantages of Education

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 1.—Robert Walter, high school commercial teacher, was in charge of the program at this week's meeting of the Kiwanis club at Firestone park Monday evening.

Following the dinner Walter presented three pupils of the high school Fred Kidder, Lulu Kurr and Frances Newell, who spoke of "Advantages of a High School Education." Next week the club will meet at the same place at which time the program will be in charge of Ray J. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bodendorfer and family moved Tuesday from Salem street to Salem where Mr. Bodendorfer is employed.

The Sunday school classes of the Presbyterian church, taught by Mr. F. J. McGahan and Mrs. R. J. McGahan, will hold a Halloween party at the church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Rev. J. Morgan Cox of the Lisbon Presbyterian church will conclude a three-night series of services in the local church this evening at which time he will speak on "Living Epistles." This is an exchange of pulpits as arranged by the Mahoning presbytery. Rev. McDivitt of the local has been holding similar services in Lisbon.

The November business and special meeting of the King's Daughters class of Grace Reformed church will be held Thursday evening at the church with Mesdames Richard Orr, Raymond Snook, Harry Miller and Lester Rapp as hostesses.

The Columbiana High school football team will play at Sebring Saturday in another Tri-County league game. Last year's fray at Columbiana ended in a 20-6 victory for Sebring. The season's record for Coach Al Beach's charges now stands at two victories, three losses and one tie.

Let's Stop Branding Women

Just because a woman wears a size larger than a twenty — or because she is beyond the jitterbug age is no good reason for branding her with dress styles that are seasons apart . . . or apart from the accepted fashions of the moment.

For the matron of today in her lovely fifties or sixties and wearing sizes 38 to 46 or 16½ to 26½ . . . there are available all the new correct fashions . . . properly proportioned and sized for the figure it is intended to enhance.

Today the matron can be dressed as smart and outstanding in her group as the fashion-minded miss wearing a size 14.

The dress styles in these new groups were selected by leading stylists and adapted to requirements and figure of the matron.

Growing Defense Fund Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — As a result of a presidential request for $275,000,000 to enforce American neutrality, some officials expressed belief today that national defense appropriations in 1940 likely would exceed $2,000,000,000.
Mr. Roosevelt told reporters yesterday that congress would be asked to vote the $275,000,000 for unusual expenses during the first 10 months of the European war.
The money, he said, would be needed chiefly for the increases in the army and navy which he ordered Sept. 8 in proclaiming a state of limited national emergency.
Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) of the senate military committee predicted that congress would grant $1,000,000,000 to the army for next year. Such a total, he said, would include funds for anti-aircraft guns already authorized by congress.
Chairman Scruggs (D-Nev.) of the house naval appropriations subcommittee, said that he expected the navy budget to approach $1,600,000,000.

Facing Charges

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—Criminal charges may be filed against many of the nearly 4,000 companies in the Cleveland district now being investigated for failure to "pay social security taxes. Frank F. Gentsch, collector of internal revenue, said today.

OHIO IS URGED TO GIVE THANKS

Governor Proclaims Nov. 23, For Official Observance

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 1.—Gov. John W. Bricker today issued the following Thanksgiving day proclamation:

"The Pilgrims, when the crops were harvested, set aside a date for Thanksgiving and prayer. This day was one of festivity, commensurate with the bounties of nature. It was a day of Thanksgiving and prayer and for peace and the blessings of life. This day became a colonial tradition.
"One hundred and sixty years ago, President George Washington set aside by proclamation, Thursday, November twenty-sixth, as a national Thanksgiving day. In that proclamation, President Washington said:
"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these states to the service of that great and glorious being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be—that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks—for His care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation—for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence, which we experienced in the course and conclusion of the late war—for the great degree of tranquility union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed—for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed and the belief today that national defense appropriations in 1940 likely would exceed $2,000,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters yesterday that congress would be asked to vote the $275,000,000 for unusual expenses during the first 10 months of the European war.

Happenings In Moscow, Rome Provide New Twists To War

By DeWitt MacKENZIE
The political happenings in Moscow and Rome yesterday have given new shape to the European war.

Soviet Premier Molotov in a notable declaration of policy pledged cooperation with Germany, but at the same time reaffirmed Russia's neutrality—meaning that cooperation would take the form of military assistance for Herr Hitler.

The most important aspect of this notable speech for those who search between the lines was the absence of anything to change the widespread belief that Russia is playing her own game and that her purpose is to use rather than serve Germany.

Away From Nazism

Down in Rome, the old fashioned dusting which Signor Mussolini administered to the leadership of Fascism was calculated — among other important things — not only to insure Italy's neutrality but was widely interpreted as meaning a further drawing apart of Nazism and Fascism.

The indication on paper was that Il Duce also intended to hoe his own row.
Informed quarters in Berlin today professed to see no injury to the German cause in either development. However, neither Moscow nor Rome had given cause for rejoicing. The best one could say was that if the Nazi cause hadn't been harmed, neither had it been strengthened.

The political upheaval in Rome cut far deeper than the Rome-Berlin axis, however. By a series of quick and shrewdly figured changes among his lieutenants Mussolini altered not only far-reaching international tendencies but struck at the course of events at home.

Il Duce has made history which will live beyond his time, and mine. His method of consolidating the "neutrality" of Italy left no doubt as to what he had in mind. He shifted powerful officials who were said to be bent on forcing Italy into war on the side of Germany because of their pro-Nazi sympathies.

But, Mussolini's house-cleaning had to do with much more than the Rome-Berlin axis.
Starace Turned Back
He had designated Count Ciano, his son-in-law, as his political heir. But for a considerable period now it has been a matter of common talk in Fascist circles that the powerful Achille Starace, secretary of the party, had very definite ambitions to succeed Mussolini if and when Il Duce laid down the lines.

So Starace was shifted to a far less important post. And unnamed friends of Ciano were elevated to power.

There is one other striking thing which Mussolini's purge has done, perhaps purely by coincidence. The men now in key positions, while wholly loyal to Mussolini, also are king's men.

The stock of the king-emperor and his heir, Crown Prince Umberto, has been steadily improving with passing months until now, as the result of these changes, we find it at probably its highest point since the advent of Fascism.

While it may not have been Mussolini's purpose to strengthen the throne, still there can be no doubts that it must have suited his plans, else he wouldn't have done it.

It seems quite likely that Mussolini has trimmed his sails to suit the breeze, for he always has shown that he recognized his strength lay in the approval of the general public.

Hopeless Patient Taking Last Chance

PRYOR, Okla., Nov. 1.—A 50-year-old man, a "hopeless" cancer case, is ready to seek relief in cold hibernation, undaunted by the death of a farm woman just three hours before she would have completed the nine-day treatment.

The woman's death yesterday was ascribed to a blocked gall bladder after an autopsy performed by Dr. E. A. Leach of Tulsa and Dr. V. D. Herrington, Dr. Herrington operates the hospital where the treatment was given.

"It's the only chance I've got and I'm ready to try it," said the man, a Sand Springs, Okla., resident.

The woman began the treatment after physicians said she had only two or three weeks to live.

Fight Hotel Fires

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1.—Fires in two downtown Louisville hotels discovered only 45 minutes apart, routed several hundred persons from their rooms early today.

Both blazes were brought quickly under control but billowing smoke poured from the buildings for several hours.

Missionary Service Planned

A special missionary service, sponsored by the Women's Missionary society, will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Church of the Nazarene.

The service will be in charge of Rev. A. H. Johnston of Sharon, Pa. Work and conditions in the different missionary fields will be described by Rev. Johnston in the first part of his stereopticon lecture. The latter part of his talk will be devoted to a missionary message.

The public is invited to attend the service.

Dukes Initiate

Charles Gibbs was initiated as a new member of the Dukes of Salem club at a meeting last evening at the home of Robert Michael on Ridgewood drive.

Plans were discussed for a party to be held at the Gibbs home on the Painter rd., the date to be announced. Members also made arrangements to buy sweaters.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Charles Lind on Park drive.

Motorist Draws Fine

William Low, 22, of Lisbon, arrested by a charge of reckless driving following an accident on Route 30 last Saturday, pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice M. K. Zimmerman in Lisbon yesterday and was fined $10 and costs.

Leaves Being Raked

Service department workers, aided by persons working out relief orders, today busied themselves cleaning leaves from streets throughout the city in an effort to keep the leaves from entering and clogging storm water sewers.

Court of Appeals
Finishing Up Work

LISBON, Nov. 1.—J. C. Nichols, presiding judge of the seventh district appellate court in session here, indicated he and his associate, Judge William Carter, today would complete such cases as may be decided by the court in the absence of Judge Elmer T. Phillips, who is confined in a hospital with back injuries sustained in a fall.

Judge Nichols stated the appellate court may return here after it has completed its circuit, for the consideration of cases which demand the attention of the full court.

In the event that Judge Phillips is unable to return to the bench at that time it is possible Judge Nichols may request Judge Simon Ross of Cincinnati, presiding judge of the Ohio court of appeals, to assign a jurist here to assist in the disposal of such cases.

Among those to be considered by the full court will be the cases of Lloyd C. Kirk vs. The Columbus county commissioners, and that of the State of Ohio vs. John Lester Welch and Joseph Howell.

Completing their session here, the court will next convene on Monday, Nov. 6, in Carroll county, and will then hold court in Belmont, Harrison, Monroe and Jefferson counties.

World of Tomorrow
Ghost of Yesterday

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The world of tomorrow was a $156,000,000 ghost town today.

A skeleton crew of workmen began boarding up the 1939 New York world's fair, a deserted village of chromium and streamlined plaster which closed its first season in a dismal, rainy finale yesterday.

Paid attendance since the opening last April 30 totaled 25,811,733. (The fair's west coast rival, the San Francisco Golden Gate exposition, closed last Sunday, uncertain whether to reopen in 1940. The treasure island show registered 10,496,203 paid admissions in its 254 days.)

As a result of an all-day rain, only 51,382 persons, the second smallest crowd of the year, paid to see the closing ceremonies yesterday.

A detail of soldiers, sailors and marines sloped through deepening puddles in a final retreat parade, officials spoke briefly, flags were lowered; the band played "Auld Lang Syne," and the 1939 preview of the future became history.

School Bus Ditched

CHARDON, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Jessie Allyn, Chardon High school teacher, was recuperating today from a bad cut on the head. Four pupils suffered less serious injuries when a Chardon school bus struck a culvert and went into a ditch.

HOUSE DEMAND

for itself in that it was a simple appeal for peace.

Administration Confident

Advocates of the arms embargo argued doggedly for their cause in the house as the best way to world peace, but administration leaders clung confidently to their belief the ban would be lifted by Saturday.

Rep. Barton (R., N. Y.) asked that the house tell its representatives on a joint senate-house committee to insist on keeping the embargo, asserted that this might help end a war "that nobody wants."

Lifting it, he said, might be the signal to start "the real war" in Europe—"the most stupid, most crazy and most cockeyed war in history."

A former World War naval hero, Rep. Isaac (D., Calif.), declared that unless the course of world events were changed, the United States would be forced ultimately to spend between 50 and 75 per cent of the federal government's income on national defense.

Pleading for consideration of "the German people being led to the slaughter by a madman," Isaac likened Adolf Hitler and his followers to a band of gangsters, arming themselves to "prey on their peaceful neighbors."

Argues With Fish

The Californian quickly got into an argument with Rep. Fish (R., N. Y.), a leader of the embargo advocates, by asserting that Germany got "tremendous" quantities of scrap iron, oil and other commodities from the United States in the last six years with which to build up her war machine.

Fish read into the record figures from Secretary Hull to show that Germany bought only $78,000 worth of materials here in the last eight or nine months, in contrast to $27,000,000 for Great Britain and $17,000,000 for France.

Isaac retorted that while those figures might be correct for recent months, they failed to show the true picture for the last six years—the period since Hitler came to power.

"My plea is to keep the embargo and cash and carry," Barton asserted in his turn. "Let's give the forces for peace over there one more chance to work."

Battle Stubborn
Fire In Scrap Pile

LORAIN, Nov. 1.—A stubborn fire which broke out more than a week ago in 1,300 tons of oily steel shavings at the Lorain ore docks continued burning today.

For the third consecutive day, a small fire-fighting crew aided by experts from Chicago poured liquid carbon dioxide and water on the flaming mass.

Firemen estimated value of the steel scrap at $25,000 to $30,000. It was unloaded Oct. 8 at the Toledo, Lorain and Fairport Dock Co. for rail shipment to the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Fire Chief David Hatt said the fire apparently was caused by spontaneous combustion. The scrap was brought here by freighter from Monroe, Mich.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube officials said they were unable to determine yet whether the scrap would be of any use after the fire is extinguished.

Takes Own Life

SANDUSKY, Nov. 1.—Coroner E. J. Meckroth today termed suicide the death of Mrs. Louise Parks, 39, who hanged herself in the Erie county jail with a belt from a coat. Sheriff William Souther said she had been found guilty of disorderly conduct.

DEATHS

LISBON, Nov. 1.—Paul Fellesky, 86, died at 2 a. m. today at his home on the Fairfield-Ekrun township rd., three miles' northeast of Lisbon, following a long illness.

Mr. Fellesky had been in ill health for five years, although he had been confined to bed for only the last four weeks.

Born in Austria-Hungary Feb. 17, 1853, Mr. Fellesky came to the United States 50 years ago. He had worked all his life as a coal miner. Surviving him are two sons, Paul of Akron and John of Ekrun township; one daughter, Miss Helen Fellesky of Salem; one sister, Mrs. Theresa LaVogue of Youngstown; 16 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Bells Funeral home in charge of Rev. J. Morgan Cox pastor of the Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p. m.

MRS. ROBERT FISHER

Mrs. Sarah Estoria Bates Fisher, 64, wife of Robert Fisher, died this morning of complications at her home, 421 West State st.

Born in Franklin Square, June 17, 1875, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bates. She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star in Minerva, the White Shrine of Canton and a charter member of the Minerva Rebekah lodge. She formerly lived in Leetonia and Canton.

Her husband is the only survivor. Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Woods funeral home in Leetonia in charge of Rev. J. W. Grohne of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery, Leetonia. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p. m. Thursday.

P. V. REYNOLDS

LEETONIA, Nov. 1.—P. V. Reynolds, 85, of Columbia st., died shortly after 10 a. m. today while walking home from a trip downtown.

He is believed to have been seized with a heart attack and fell just two blocks from his home. He was a resident of the village for many years.

The body was removed to the Woods funeral home.

Friends. The impression that Germany was preparing for some "positive" action was increased by Interior Minister Dr. Wilhelm Frick, in an address at Danzig last night, he observed that "England rejected the fuhrer's hand extended in a gesture of peace and now others (Germany's enemies) shall have what they wanted."

Confident. Frick declared Germany has the world's finest army, and that "no power can snatch victory from the German people."

Meanwhile, to combat spies, Germany announced restrictions were being imposed on communications with neutral countries. There was no indication as to what form the control might take.

Announcement that several thousand Jews had been ordered to leave Vienna and Mahrtsch-Ostau, near the Polish border, to settle in former Polish territory between the Vistula and Bug rivers, caused deep concern among Jewish residents in other parts of the reich.

The fear grew that all Jews physically able to travel would be packed off to the reservation in Poland within a short time.

It was explained that Jews able to prove their intention of migrating immediately to another country would be exempted from orders directing removal to Poland.

Struck by Auto

Audrey Munsell, 10, daughter of Mrs. Laura Munsell of 214 Wilson st., escaped with bruises and abrasions when hit by an automobile on S. Ellsworth ave. operated by Vance W. Stewart of R. D. 3, Salem, at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday.

The child is reported by Stewart to have run from behind another car into his, according to the police report. She was taken to the Central Clinic.

ness principles should be applied." Pointing out that the functions and services of a city have become broader, more varied and extremely complex, Flick cited several matters as being important and needing careful consideration by the mayor and city council.

Expansion and improvements in the city's water system, a valuable asset to any city, were mentioned by the speaker. The clearing up of a muddy condition in the water at times also was advocated.

"Housewives will welcome cleaner water," he said. He favored a reduction in water rates if the resultant lowering of income for the water department would not jeopardize the improvement and maintenance funds.

"The city's sewer system," Flick continued, "is a problem requiring intensive study and planning. It is a problem that can not be solved immediately, but it should be given serious consideration by the mayor and city council. Existing unsatisfactory conditions should be eliminated as soon as possible."

In connection with the sewer program, Flick called attention to the fact that steps have been taken to remedy conditions on lower S. Broadway and adjacent territory. This will have a tendency to improve sewer conditions in the up-town district.

The considerable interest of neighborhood groups in park improvements in Salem merit attention, the Republican mayoralty candidate said. "I am not, at this time, advocating any particular improvements at Centennial and the west end playground," he added. "This cannot be done until more definite plans and costs are available."

In conclusion, he pointed out that the candidates chosen in August to represent the Republican party are men of experience and sound judgement and will cooperate with the mayor in solving the city's problems.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Refuse anything else. At all drug stores, 10¢ and 25¢.

Schroeder Attempts To Guard Against Another Let-Down

FEAR QUAKERS TAKING DOVER GAME LIGHTLY

Crimson Is Salem's Foe In Last Night Game Of Season

Mindful of one costly let-down this season, Coach Carl Schroeder is grilling his Salem High school Quakers unusually hard this week as he attempts to whip them into shape for their tough November campaign, starting with an invasion of Dover Friday night.

The Quakers will face Dover's Crimson eleven in their final night game of the season and their last game away from home. Remaining games on their November schedule will be played at Reilly stadium.

Fears Another Slump
With memories of the Quakers' let-down against Struthers still fresh in mind, Schroeder is attempting to guard against another slump similar to the one which cost his team its only defeat to date.

Schroeder fears that the Quakers may treat Dover too lightly in view of the fact that the Crimson has won only one game this year. He informed his charges early this week that, although Dover has only one win to its credit, Friday night's game will not offer the Quakers a chance to lay down.

The Quakers, who stopped Lisbon, 21-6, last Saturday, will probably enter the game as favorites. The two teams have met one common foe, Wellsville, with the Quakers winning over the Bengals, 12-12, and Dover losing to them, 12-6.

Boost Point Total
Last Saturday's scoring boosted the Quakers' point-total for the season to 74. Their opponents have counted 31 points.

More than half of the Salem touchdowns have been scored by Marvin (Buster) Wukotich, line-crushing fullback. Wukotich has called 47 points to date, making seven touchdowns and five extra points. Other touchdowns have been made by George Baillie, Carrol Greene, Don West and Johnny Volio.

ALONZO STAGG LOOKS AHEAD

Grid Sport's "Grand Old Man" Now In His 50th Year As Coach

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 1.—The "Old Man" they wanted to retire from Chicago is upsetting everything sacred in football, and great is the gnashing of teeth by worried coaches on the Pacific coast.

The man the University of Chicago thought was "getting along in years" is Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, "Grand Old Man" of American football, who is celebrating his 50th year of coaching.

First his College of Pacific eleven took the University of South Dakota, 6-0, at Sacramento. The doopers said: "Well, that's all right. The South Dakota boys were out of their territory. It was the first of the season, and it was a night game—anything could have happened."

Then Coach Stagg had a game with the University of California at Berkeley. Sports writers said: "Shame on the Golden Bears for taking on such a little college. It's murder!"

Sure it was murder—in reverse order. Stagg's boys went right over to Berkeley and took them 6-0.

Going Strong
Stagg, despite his 77 years of almost continuous sports activities, is still going strong. He still has youthful optimism. Note that he is taking on Notre Dame in 1941.

It was in 1933 that Stagg brought cheer and hope to the struggling College of Pacific eleven and became their coach. Each year brought him nearer to his goal for a first-rank team. In 1936 his team won their first conference championship.

But that wasn't enough. Stagg wants to offer real competition to the major Pacific coast college circuit. This year will see more major engagements than before, but Stagg is marking time. By next year, he believes, the College of Pacific down Stockton way will have excellent material—thus the Notre Dame challenge for 1941.

That he's impressing the top-notchers, there is no doubt. And Stagg has his own ideas about coaching and the football game, enhanced with 50 years of experience.

Polo Club Begins Field Improvement

Improvement of the Salem Polo club's home field on the North Ellisworth rd., scene of Penn-Ohio league games for the past two years, will be started Thursday.

The field will be plowed, leveled and planted with grass seed. When finished, it is expected to be the finest field in the Penn-Ohio league.

Plowing and leveling will be done Thursday, Friday and Saturday by Albert Loudon, Hanover tractor dealer, who has donated his services to the club.

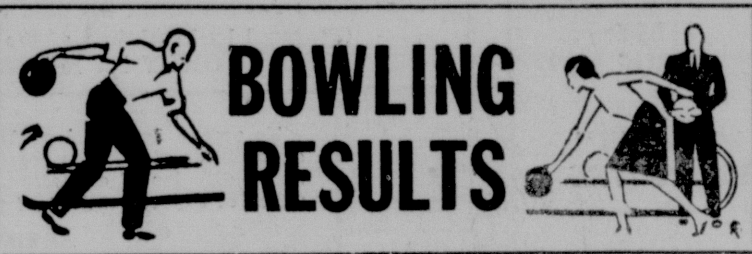

Wrestling Results

Minneapolis—Bronko Nagurski, 235, International Falls, Minn., threw Dick Raine, 244, Texas, 35-42.
Indianapolis—Lord Lansdowne, 177, Brighton, Eng., defeated Whitney Wahlberg, 178, Minneapolis, two straight falls.

Leading Notre Dame to Another National Football Championship?

Joe Thesing, Lou Zontini, Bernie Crimmins
Notre Dame, victorious in its first five starts against strong opposition, apparently is on the road to another great season. The Irish, not as strong defensively as in past years, have a versatile offense which is led by several sets of backs, including Bernie Crimmins, Joe Thesing, who does the blocking, and Lou Zontini, All-American runner. After Army comes Northwestern, Iowa, Southern California.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Gem Shoe Shine took over sole possession of first place in the National league at the Masonic temple alleys last night, winning three games over Grate Recreation while Kelly's Service, which was formerly tied for the lead, lost three to the Masons.

The three defeats dropped Kelly's to third place, two games behind the Salem News, which moved into second position by winning three games with Art the Jeweler.

Fitzpatrick & Strain managed to hold its fourth-place berth by taking two out of three games with the Moose.

Given three wins on a forfeit, the Blue Ribbon Paints remained far out in front in the City Duckpin league. The Paints have lost only one of 24 games to date.

Local No. 42, N. B. O. P., posted three wins over Martin Tire Sales to hold second place, while DeRienzo's Spagetti Shoppe remained in third position by taking three games from Fratila's.

DuPont Paints clung to first place in the Owl league at the Grate lanes by taking two out of three games with the Grate Motors. Owl league matches gave Martin Tire Sales three wins over the Trades Class and the Sanitary Enamelers three victories over the Sanitary Old Timers on a forfeit.

PITT TO STRESS PASSING ATTACK AGAINST TEMPLE

Panthers Develop Their Aerial Game For Use Saturday

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Following receipt of scouting reports on the Temple line, the Pitt Panthers went to work this week on their passing attack, and will continue to concentrate their attention on the over headgame until the departure for Philadelphia Thursday evening.

The Owl line, according to Scout Nick Kliskey, is entirely too rugged to permit much ground gaining by the Panthers, and Quarterback Ben Kish is going to have instructions to throw the ball as much as he sees fit.

The Pitt pitchers, Dick Cassiano, Emil Narick, George Kram, and Edgar Jones, all are spending the greater of the time in throwing, and the receivers are getting in equally long workouts in taking the throws.

Temple no team has been able to completely halt the Pitt air attack. West Virginia met with the most success but had to use such a spread defense that the Panthers found little trouble in running for three scores on the Mountaineers.

Complete 12 of 18
Washington went down under an avalanche of losses that saw 12 out of 18 completions, two for touchdowns. Duke was doing all right against Pitt until Narick threw two strikes to Cassiano, both for markers. Fordham and Duquesne both saw Pitt receivers cross the last white stripe.

Narick has thrown two touchdowns passes to Joe Bettinger at left, and two to Dick Cassiano at left half. Cassiano has thrown twice to Ben Kish for scores.

In all probability Harold Klein, veteran guard from Altoona, will be acting captain for the day.

WOOSTER FACES OLD TIME RIVAL

Scots Meet Oberlin Saturday In 27th Game Between Teams

WOOSTER, Nov. 1.—When Oberlin and Wooster football teams meet here Saturday before the thirteenth annual Wooster Dad's day crowd, it will be the twenty-seventh game in a series which began in 1903.

Oberlin holds a two-game edge since Yeoman teams have won 13, Wooster teams 11, and twice scoreless ties resulted.

Sixteen of the games have been played by Scot teams coached by Coach L. C. Boles. Nine times his teams have won, losing five with two ties. This week's game will be the last for Boles against Oberlin as he will retire as football coach after this season.

Since Oberlin is undefeated, victorious in three games with one tie, and the Scots have won only one of five tilts, the Yeomen are favored to win this week.

Oberlin has defeated Hamilton, Allegheny and Rochester and last week led Swarthmore. This week's game will be Oberlin's first in the Ohio conference.

Wooster has won from Mt. Union and lost to Ohio Northern and Muskingum in the conference and also dropped non-conference games to Rutgers and Washington and Jefferson.

Erie Coach Testifies To Cleverness Of Massillon

By JIM EMERSON
Jim Hyde, grizzled coach of Erie (Pa.) East High school football will testify to the seeming impossibility of stopping the Massillon football avalanche.

When East went on the defensive for the first time in the game with Massillon on Oct. 6, East employed a six-man line. Massillon immediately cracked through for a long gain and Hyde sent in a substitute to pull the linemen closer together.

On the next play, Massillon added substantial yardage on an end sweep. In went another Erie sub with instructions to throw down a seven-man defense line. Massillon replied by completing a perfect forward pass for a touch-down.

Whereupon Brother Hyde gave up and remarked disgustedly: "The heck with it. From now on, I'm just going to watch this game." (Final score: Massillon 66, Erie East 0)

Great Spirit
The indomitable spirit of Bob Miller is one big reason for the success of the Conneaut High school football team which won its first seven games. Bob, regular center of last year's eleven, looked forward to a great season this fall.

Then misfortune struck and Bob's lost the sight of his left eye last winter when an air gun pellet hit the eye.

His friends thought the accident ended Bob's football career but he came back this fall and begged to play. He got a specially-built helmet and has been at the pivot post in every game.

"Bob's spirit has helped the whole team and a spirit like that is hard to beat," smiles Coach Leonard Hoppes.

Treason
If this be treason... Karl Davis, director of athletics for Western Reserve, confesses no heart-rending disappointment from Reserve's involuntary descent from the top of the Ohio college gridiron heap this fall. He thinks the defeats are a good thing for Cleveland's Big Four football, ruled for the past five years by Reserve, and a good thing for Reserve. There will be no more loose talk—at least this season—of Reserve moving into "big league" company.

BARONS START ON HOME ICE SUNDAY NIGHT

Cleveland Hockey Team To Play Pittsburgh At Arena

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—From now on the chips are down.

With the training season completed, the Cleveland Barons are ready to embark for Philadelphia where they pry the lid off the 1939-40 hockey season Saturday night.

Sunday evening, the Barons return to the arena and open the international-American league race at home against the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Although Coach Bill Cook is conceded to have a team that should be in the thick of the championship race, his first two assignments are anything but easy ones.

Cleveland was fortunate in defeating the Ramblers for the league title last season but the fact still remains that the Barons can only boast of two victories in three years on Philadelphia ice.

Good Against Barons
And Pittsburgh, although they finished in the cellar a year ago, won seven of 10 games against the Barons and tied another. Both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have strong outfits again this year.

Returning to face his former teammates Sunday night as a member of the Hornets is Mickey Blake, who was a high scorer with the Barons a year ago. Led by their playing-manager, Larry Aurie, and including such tried and true puck performers as Johnny Sherf, Harry Currie, Sammy McManus, Vernon Ayres and Goalie Harvey Teno, the Hornets are a powerful outfit.

The chips are down and the Barons won't find their press clippings very impressing to opponents on the ice. From now on they'll win or lose on merit.

OREGON STATE PREPARED FOR ITS BIG TEST

Beavers Face Southern California In West Coast Headliner

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1.—Undefatted and untied in five games this season, Oregon State college football players took up the cry "on to the Rose Bowl" today as they prepared for their all-important clash at Portland Saturday with the powerful Southern California Trojans.

It looks from this distance that the winner of Saturday's game likely will get a bid to represent the west in the Pasadena pigskin classic New Year's day, and the Beavers already are beginning to scent roses.

Oregon State will be on the short end of 3 to 1 odds, but the determined little squad has high hopes of knocking over the once-tied Trojans, defending champions of the Pacific coast conference and Rose Bowl victor last season.

It's the first time Oregon State has come even close to gridiron fame.

Small Squad
The squad, small in numbers, got where it is today by a steadfast defense and a conservative but accomplished attack. That doesn't mean the Beavers play dull football; they simply explore the possibilities of well-grounded, carefully-planned action before turning to a more spectacular game.

Head Coach Lon Stiner has a hunch this team can duplicate the feat of his 1933 squad, which smashed Southern California's magnificent record of 26 straight victories. They called those Beavers the "iron men" because they standard three waves of Howard Jones reserves without relief.

To reach Saturday's test, the Oregon Staters beat Stanford, Portland University (which beat St.
Mary's Sunday), Idaho, Washington and Washington State. None of these, Stiner insists, forced him to order the Beavers to open up with all their talents for the edification of Trojan scouts.

Jinx Trails Howard Horses; Mishaps Cost Him Fortune

Turf May Have Been Kind To Prominent Owner, But It Also Has Proven Rather Harsh

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The turf, while it may have been kind to Charles S. Howard, has also proven rather harsh at times to the gentleman from California. One of those latter occasions occurred recently when Howard's South American importation, Sortado, broke down during the inaugural running of the Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica, L. I., and was retired from racing. This came on the eve of what gave every appearance of being the start of a brilliant fall campaign for the son of Trestle-Sevilla.

This was the second such blow to be suffered by Howard since last winter when his outstanding star, Seabiscuit, also broke down in preparing for the rich Santa Anita Handicap and had to be retired.

The fact that Kayak II, Howard's current top-notch subsequently replaced Seabiscuit in the Anita cap with a record-breaking victory, was some consolation for the Howard stable, but the loss of the "Biscuit" himself, as a racing animal, came as a shock not only to the star's connections but also to the legion of friends who had strongly supported the brilliant son of Hart Tack in the future books for the contest.

Howard was especially interested in seeing Seabiscuit win the rich extravaganza after seeing his ace lose unluckily nose decisions on previous occasions.

With the breakdown of Sortado, Howard was still $20,000 short on his investment in the horse. The alien, a champion down in the Argentine, was purchased by Howard for $40,000, and at the time of his mishap had a total earning score of about $20,000. This deficit will now have to be made up in the horse's stud earnings.

For a while it looked like curtains for the game invader who,
prior to the Gallant Fox Handicap, had smashed a speed record in winning the Manhattan Handicap.
After streaking into early command, something seemed to snap in the horse's right foreleg. Although fighting to run, the game equine nevertheless was immediately pulled up and the jockey slid off his back.

Upon examination, it was determined Sortado had suffered a severe rupture in the ligament around the sesamoid bone and the opinion was expressed that he could be saved, although admittedly at through as a racer.

BULLETIN ON 4 STATE ISSUES

TO BE DECIDED BY THE VOTERS OF OHIO

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1939

Issued by the Republican State Central Committee of Ohio, Ed D. Schorr, Chairman, Columbus, Ohio

Republican State Committee Makes Recommendations On Each Proposition

TO THE PEOPLE OF OHIO:

At the coming election, on Tuesday, November 7, 1939, four state issues will be submitted to the voters of Ohio for determination.

The official "Questions or Issues" ballot carrying these issues, which will be used in most of the counties, will be like the sample ballot shown at the right. In a few counties the official ballot may be narrower than this sample ballot.
In a few counties local issues may be on the same ballot following the state issues. But in every county the four state issues will appear on the official "Questions or Issues" ballot in the same order in which they are shown on this sample ballot.

"STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION" AMENDMENT

The first issue on the official ballot carrying the state issues, will be the so-called "State Board of Education" amendment. It is a proposal to amend Section 4 of Article VI of the Constitution of Ohio so as to create a state board of education and director of education, and to abolish the existing office of superintendent of public instruction. This proposal is being submitted to the voters of Ohio pursuant to a resolution providing therefor adopted by the 93rd General Assembly of Ohio.

"BIGELOW" AMENDMENTS

The second and third issues on the official ballot carrying the state issues, will be the so-called "Bigelow" amendments. The second issue is a proposal to amend the Constitution of Ohio by the adoption of a new section to be known as Section 13 of Article XII, so as to provide a pension for all persons 60 years of age or over, and to levy special real estate and income taxes to raise a part of the money required therefor. The third issue is a proposal to amend the Constitution of Ohio by the adoption of a new section to be known as Section 1 (h) of Article II so as to provide that the signatures of 100,000 electors from the state at-large shall be sufficient for an initiative petition submitting a proposed constitutional amendment to the vote of the people, and to provide that the signatures of 50,000 electors from the state at-large shall be sufficient for an initiative petition submitting any proposed law directly to the vote of the people without first submitting it to the Legislature. Both of these proposals are being submitted to the voters of Ohio pursuant to an initiative petition sponsored by the Bigelow Pension Plan Committee.

"CIVIL SERVICE" REFERENDUM

The fourth issue on the official ballot carrying the state issues will be the so-called "Civil Service" referendum. It is a referendum on House Bill No. 14 amending the civil service laws of Ohio, passed by the 93rd General Assembly and approved by the Governor. This referendum is being submitted to the voters of Ohio pursuant to a referendum petition sponsored by Democratic State Headquarters.

STATE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Republican State Central and Executive Committee of Ohio, the duly elected and legally constituted controlling Committee of the Republican Party in Ohio, at a meeting duly called and held in the City of Columbus, on Tuesday, October 17, 1939, after carefully considering each of these four state issues, unanimously adopted resolutions recommending to the people of Ohio: Adoption of the "State Board of Education" amendment; rejection of both of the "Bigelow" amendments; and approval of House Bill No. 14 amending the civil service laws. Said resolutions urge the people of Ohio voting at the election to be held on Tuesday, November 7, 1939, to vote on said issues as shown on the sample ballot at the right.

PARTISAN CONSIDERATIONS NOT INVOLVED

May I state that in adopting these resolutions the members of the Republican State Central and Executive Committee were not influenced by partisan considerations of any kind. The first three of these issues are clearly not Party issues. The fourth issue may, with some degree of reason be said to be a Party issue.
In adopting these resolutions the members of the Committee were firmly convinced that the public welfare, the best interests of all the people, require action on these state issues as recommended in said resolutions.

Therefore we urge the people of Ohio to carefully consider these issues, to go to the polls on November 7th, and to vote on these issues as indicated on the sample ballot at the right. We also urge Republicans throughout the State to bring this Bulletin to the attention of all voters, and to urge them to vote in accordance with the Committee's recommendations, and to do everything possible, both prior to and on election day, to the end that the result of the election may be for the best interests of all the people.

Respectfully,

ED D. SCHORR,
Republican State Chairman.

SAMPLE QUESTIONS OR ISSUES BALLOT

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO
(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly).
USE X ONLY IN MARKING BALLOT

To amend Section 4 of Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to create a State board of education and a director of education, and to abolish the existing office of superintendent of public instruction.

ARTICLE VI

Sec. 4. There shall be a State board of education to be constituted by law, whose members shall serve without compensation. There shall be a director of education, who shall be appointed by the State board of education.
The respective powers and duties of the board and of the director shall be prescribed by law.

SCHEDULE

If the votes for the proposal shall exceed those against it, the foregoing section shall take effect January 1, 1940, and existing Section 4 of Article VI of the Constitution shall be repealed and annulled.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO
(Proposed by Initiative Petition)
USE X ONLY IN MARKING BALLOT

An amendment to the Constitution of the State of Ohio proposing the adoption of a new section to be known as Section 13 of Article XII.

The amendment proposes to provide pensions to persons who are not under conviction of crime, who are sixty years of age or over, retired from gainful occupation as wage earners, citizens of the State of Ohio or those who may become citizens after its adoption, and who reside in the State for ten years or less time should the Legislature by law so provide. Such payments supplement all sources of private income. Revenue for payment of such pensions is to be derived from a special tax of two per cent on certain lands, and such revenue used before revenues from other sources are used and from revenue derived from a State income tax automatically enforceable. While the amendment is declared to be effective without enabling legislation, laws not inconsistent with its provisions, may be passed in furtherance of its purpose, and it is provided that such laws may be passed either by the Legislature or by direct vote of the people with the powers of the initiative and referendum. All provisions of law or Constitution conflicting with the amendment are to be considered as being amended or superseded with respect to such conflict.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO
(Proposed by Initiative Petition)
USE X ONLY IN MARKING BALLOT

An amendment to the Constitution of the State of Ohio proposing the adoption of a new section to be known as Section 1 (h) of Article II.

This amendment provides that the signatures of at least 100,000 qualified electors to be secured at large shall qualify an Initiative Petition proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Ohio; it further provides that the signatures of at least 50,000 qualified electors to be secured at large shall qualify an Initiative Petition proposing a law on any subject whatsoever. The full text of which shall be set forth in the petition. Proposed laws are to be submitted direct to the voters without first being submitted to the Legislature. The present provision that the ward and precinct of signers shall be stated is abolished and there is substituted the requirement that only the residence address showing city or township shall be required.

REFERENDUM ON HOUSE BILL No. 14
(Proposed by Referendum Petition)
USE X ONLY IN MARKING BALLOT

(By Referendum Petition)

Shall House Bill No. 14 amending Sections 485-3, 486-5, 486-7, 486-11, 486-12, 486-14, 486-15, 486-16, 486-17,
486-23 and 486-30 of the General Code, to supplement
Section 486-16 by the enactment of supplemental Section 486-16a and to re-enact Section 486-18, relative to civil service commission, eligible lists, certification, sick leave and lay-offs in the classified service, passed by the General Assembly of Ohio, June 1, 1939, approved by the Governor, June 6, 1939, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, June 7, 1939, be approved?

"REDHEADS ARE LUCKY"

BY VERA BROWN

CHAPTER XXXV

So Mike and Mr. Regan, Sr., started out that bright October morning to see Manhattan. They went down to the Battery first where the sight of the Statue of Liberty recalled to Mr. Regan his honeymoon trip, many years ago. It was not until they stood at sunset on top of the Empire State Building and looked down across Manhattan to the harbor that Mr. Regan again spoke of his wife.

"You've taken her place with Larry. I'll never forget what you did for my boy."

"You're kind, Mr. Regan."

"No. He couldn't have accomplished what he has without you," Mr. Regan paused for a moment. "I wanted you to know how I felt. I hope things will be all right for you and Larry some day."

They rode back down to Mike's apartment through the twilight which was deep purple. She bought all the afternoon newspapers at the corner near the apartment. Mr. Regan went to his apartment to rest before dinner. Mike paced the little sitting room next door. What had Wish done with Iris? She glanced through the papers. There was nothing. Just stuff about the game and pictures of Handsome, 14 inches deep.

It was almost seven when Handsome telephoned: "Don't worry, I'm fine. I'm with Ace." His voice reassured the girl. "I can't have dinner with you and Dad. You take him to some nice place. I'm staying with Barnes; will see you and Dad tomorrow!"

There was no sleep for Mike that night. Next morning things were no better. She was so nervous she could have screamed. Handsome telephoned about 11 o'clock. His father answered, for Mike was downstairs at the mail box. She was hoping there would be some written word from Wish. It was awful not knowing what was going to happen when so much threatened.

Handsome did not talk long, and Mr. Regan hung up before Mike came back. She was so restless, she suggested that they leave early for the stadium, eat lunch near the park, and not have to worry about the taxi or subway jams.

So for two hours, Mike and Handsome's father watched the crowds come spilling up out of the subway and rush for the stadium. Handsome Larry Regan's name was on all lips. His Yankee team was a heavy favorite for the first day's game just because he was pitching. When Mike and Mr. Regan finally took their seats in back of the Yankee dugout, the tension of the crowd was terrific.

A band was playing "Sidewalks of New York." The bleacher crowds were singing. Then they started calling for Handsome. Mr. Regan's eyes were bright. He put his hand through Mike's arm.

"Hear them!"

"Yes, they've always loved Larry, even when he was down on his luck." It was almost game time. There seemed to be but one empty seat and that was next to Mike. Maybe that seat was for Wish Malone. But no, a stranger finally took it.

Across the way, Carol Lee waved to Mike. She had just come in with Mrs. Barnes. Carol was looking brilliant. She raised her hand, her fingers crossed. Mike nodded and smiled. She wondered about Carol and Dusty, hoped that everything was all right between them now.

But the scene in front of her commanded rapt attention. The band played the "Star Spangled Banner" with the teams all lined up near the flag pole. And there was Handsome, marching with them, towering above them all.

Mike afterward could not remember seeing much of the game. She sat there in a fog of misery. Mr. Regan was enthusiastic. At the seventh inning "stretch" when everybody stood up the Yanks were leading 2 to 1. Somebody spoke to the man sitting next to Mike.

"My seat, sir, I'm sorry!" Mike turned around. It was Wish Malone! She grabbed his arm.

"Wish, Wish, where have you been?" He looked tired, thinner; but he smiled into her eyes; then he greeted Mr. Regan with real pleasure.

"Thank the Lord, I got here for a couple of innings!" He settled himself to enjoy the next twenty minutes. Handsome's team had been in the lead all the way but it was—oh, so close!

"Doing well, isn't he?" Wish murmured.

"Yes, but—but—"

There was little time for talk. A Yankee either helped tie the score in the eighth inning. Even Mike forgot her eagerness to talk to Wish. Hardest game went 10 innings. But all of a sudden, everybody into the stands. Handsome beat Chicago 3 to 2. Best pitching ever in the history of the game. Opening hit in the final inning led to his making the winning run.

As Mike stood there with Mr. Regan watching the jubilant fans swarm over the diamond, a sharp remembrance of that other World's Series came over her. She did not want Mr. Regan to miss anything.

He was like a boy, so eager to see his Larry in the hour of glory. "He'll be on the radio at 6:30 p. m. and there will be photographs and all that. We won't see him until after seven."

Wish had left in a hurry, to learn Handsome's place. The moment the game ended, they went to meet him in the old place where his car was parked.

Malone was waiting when Mike and Mr. Regan found his car. "Mr. Regan would like to hear the broadcast, Wish. I hope you'll have time to take him." Knowing well why she could not go, Wish agreed with alacrity.

"I'll see you again tonight, Wish?" she asked just before she left them at Radio City.

"Hope so. I'll let you know."

When she met Handsome for dinner with Ace Barnes and some of the boys, he was utterly poised, quite certain that their team would have little trouble.

Mike tried to get in touch with Wish the next morning at his apartment. When she telephoned, she was certain he was there. But the operator reported Mr. Malone was out. It was only nine o'clock. He's avoiding me, she decided.

Wish did not sit beside her and Mr. Regan that day or the next. She tried to question Handsome about Malone's absence but Larry had little to say and she did not press it.

A brief resume of the rest of the Series should suffice. Dusty Lee lost the second game, 7 to 3; in his aging arm or domestic worries just threw him off form. The next day the Yankees succumbed to a terrific Cub bombardment, 11 to 2; but when Ace sent Handsome to the mound for the fourth contest, Regan was even more the master than he was in the opener, shutting out his opposing sluggers, 1-0. The Series was now even, two-all.

Again Dusty's arm went back on him in the fifth game and the Yanks lost, 9 to 3; but with a desperate effort they again tied the Series by winning the sixth, 6 to 5. The stage was now set for the "rubber" game—the seventh—which would settle the series. That fateful day, Handsome Larry Regan seemed a blend of Mathewson, Dean and Gomez at their best. He registered his second shutout (2-0), holding Chicago to three measly singles!

Handsome was indeed a Christy. Dizzy and Goofy rolled into one on that most crucial afternoon!

As Mike and Mr. Regan tried to fight their way through the whooping crowd, Wish Malone found them. It was the first time Mike had seen him since the opening game.

"Handsome wants his dad to visit the dressing room," Wish said. "You go home and get into your best clothes. We'll telephone when we know where the gang's meeting."

Wish put Mike into a cab, gave the driver a bill. He was beaming. That was reassuring, but what did it mean? Mike drove unseeing through the streets. The early evening settled fast. The Series was over and she felt—horribly let down. Happy that Handsome had won, of course—wild with happiness about that. But Mike knew now she must stop seeing him. It was the only way out.

That Iris was back. Mike was certain. There was no other way to explain Wish's surprising behavior. Mike was quite convinced he had been detaining Iris. Wish might feel the end justified the means. That end, for him, was the World's Championship. But there would have to be a day of reckoning.

"It's come for me, now!" she thought out loud.

At her apartment she decided, however, to join the rest. They'd make sure that Mr. Regan, Sr., had a good time. Tomorrow was another day. Mike thought of leaving New York. She would not be afraid now to hunt for a job any place. She knew secretarial work. Maybe Bob Kenyon could help her get a transfer down south to New Orleans, or out west.

She snapped on the lights, and began to dress slowly. She had a nice black dinner gown. A box of fresh orchids from Handsome arrived. Mike touched the lovely purple blossoms, laid them against her cheek. At seven she turned on the radio. Handsome was due to broadcast with Ace and Dusty.

It was a sprightly program. Handsome and the others sounded "swell." It brought a smile to Mike's lips. After the brief program was finished, Mike sat down again to wait for her friends.

It was almost eight when her door bell rang. She ran to the buzzer, pushed it without speaking through the tube. It must be the gang. They'd not bothered to telephone.

She opened the door wide. Nobody came. She finally shut it, returning to the window. Then she heard a tap on her door. She opened it. The apartment was dimly lit, the hall lights blinded Mike for a moment. A woman was standing there. She pushed Mike aside, stepping into the room without speaking.

It was Iris Regan!
(To be concluded)

QUINDA, Cal.—Wirt Pierce went deer hunting and took along his favorite saddle horse Dolly to carry back the four-point deer he expected to shoot. But Dolly missed a ditch jump and came out so damaged that instead of transporting back a big buck, Wirt and two companions had to transport Dolly home.

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—

If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines—constipation with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful! Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All drugstores.

It is the Duty of Every Voter to VOTE on NOVEMBER 7th

NORMAN PHILLIPS

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

To the Voters of Salem

Due to sickness, I have not been able to contact you voters personally, therefore, I am using this method to present to you a few of the accomplishments of my previous administration in 1934 and 1935.

- Salem's bonded indebtedness reduced by approximately $200,000.00.
- An $11,000 delinquent light bill paid in full.
- Secured a reduction in light rates.
- Many other delinquent accounts paid, amounting to thousands of dollars.
- This was accomplished with a 60% tax collection. What can be accomplished in the next two years with tax collections 100% as they now are?
- By the efficient operation of the water department, we will endeavor to make a reduction in water rates.
